

Mattel, maker of Fisher Price toys, has issued a recall of products which they have determined contain small amounts of lead. Some of these items were sold at Meijer stores.

Consistent with our commitment to our customers' safety, Meijer has removed all recalled items from our shelves and is returning them to Mattel for proper handling. In addition, we are working to communicate directly with Meijer customers who may have purchased items to inform them about the recall and provide direction on returning these products.

For a full list of Fisher Price products subject to this recall and for additional information or questions, you can go to www.service.mattel.com or call 800-916-4498.

Meijer encourages customers to return any product identified in the recall purchased after April 17, 2007 to their local Meijer store so we can return it to Mattel and you can receive a full refund.

Thank you.

Summary Of Recall:

Surface paints on the toys could contain excessive levels of lead. Lead is toxic if ingested by young children and can cause adverse health effects.

What You Should Do:

Consumers should immediately take the recalled toys away from children and contact Fisher-Price. Consumers will need to return the product and will receive a voucher for a replacement toy of the consumer's choice (up to the value of the returned product).

Consumer Contact:

For additional information contact Fisher-Price at (800) 916-4498 anytime or visit the firm's Web site at www.service.mattel.com
